SHIRLEY SCHOOL POETS PERFORM WITH TOP CHILDREN'S AUTHOR – MICHAEL ROSEN

Local primary school hosts the best-selling author for lessons in poetry-writing, with six children chosen to read out their poems on stage at the Cambridge Corn Exchange.

One of Britain's best-loved children's authors, Michael Rosen, has been visiting Shirley Primary School in Nuffield Road, helping children to write their own poems.

On one recent visit, Rosen read his poetry on the theme of 'Refugee Week' and led a workshop for the children to write their own poems about this theme. Children read out a range of poems, and six of them were chosen by the former Children's Laureate to perform at a special Cambridge-wide schools event, Voices of Hope, on 30th June at Cambridge Corn Exchange.

It was an emotional and proud moment for children and families. Shirley pupils shared the stage with dancers, actors and musicians from a range of schools, reading aloud in front of over 1000 people in the audience.

Helen Weinstein, one of the organisers of the Voices of Hope event, said: "It has been especially inspiring to see the fantastic work with Michael Rosen because until you are in the room with him you don't understand the magical impact he can have on young people. They've grown up with Michael's famous books like "We're Going On a Bear Hunt" and "Chocolate Cake" so when we move them on to more complex content thinking about Refugees and how people become homeless, Michael makes a deep connection on this difficult subject with hundreds of young people in our workshops, because they already know Michael and trust him."

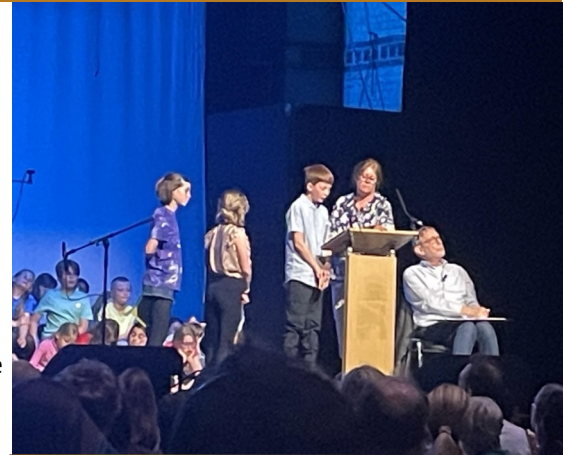

Talking about his work with local schools including Shirley, Rosen said: "We have been amazed by the number of young poets who came forward for our prize-winning poetry competition, where we asked students to submit their completed poems in empathy with refugees and on the theme of 'Our Home'.

Shirley Headteacher, John Cattermole, who attended the event at the Corn Exchange said: "We are very fortunate to have had the opportunity of working with Michael again. He is a true inspiration and children absolutely love working with him. After Michael's workshop, some children left our school hall saying 'that was the best lesson ever!' We have some very talented writers and we are delighted with the way in which children represented our school at the Corn Exchange too, for such a worthwhile cause thinking about the lives of refugees."

Children performing at the Voices of Hope event asked for donations to fundraise for two Cambridge charities that support refugees and asylum seekers – with an estimated almost £3,000 raised so far.

These important charities are:

- Cambridge Convoy Refugee Action Group (www.camcrag.org.uk); and
- The Refugee Hardship Fund, administered by Cambridge Ethnic Community Forum refugee services (cecf.co.uk).

PLAYLANDERS AWARDED 'GOOD' BY OFSTED

Local playgroup and pre-school Playlanders receives a positive result in its most recent inspection.

Playlanders recently celebrated its 45th anniversary of childcare in Chesterton. Staff were delighted that their provision has been recognised by The Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (OFSTED) in this way. Some highlights from the inspection:

- "The playgroup manager and staff demonstrate a strong commitment to continuous improvement. They are enthusiastic and motivated to provide a good-quality care and learning experience for children."
- "Staff and parents have exceptionally friendly and trusting relationships. Parents and carers hold staff in very high regard, stating that staff 'love the children' and are 'caring'. They greatly appreciate the help that staff give with child-rearing practices, such as potty training and mealtimes."

Susan Lister, Head of Playlanders said: "We were delighted to hear that Playlanders has been awarded 'Good' by Ofsted."

This is testament to the hard-working and capable team we have here. We were also really pleased to learn that in two areas - Behaviour and Attitudes and Personal Development - we were very close to achieving 'Outstanding'. The inspector told us she had never had so many parents wanting to talk to her about a setting before."

Playlanders is open on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays during school terms. It is located in St George's Church Hall in Chesterfield Road, off Milton Road. To find out more, visit: www.playlanders.org.uk

ROWAN MAKES MUSIC WITH A GENEROUS GRANT

Local arts centre and social enterprise in Chesterton has won funding for music skills and therapy.

rowan
Creating art. Improving lives

Local charity, Rowan, an arts centre for adults with learning disabilities, has been awarded a generous grant from The Radcliffe Trust. The grant has helped to support the charity's continued delivery of small group music workshops and music therapy to local adults with learning disabilities in Cambridge.

The Radcliffe Trust is one of Britain's oldest charities. The grant will ensure that Rowan's student artists can experience the joy and therapeutic benefits of music, fostering a sense of community and personal achievement.

Rowan's music tutor, Bethany Kirk, explains, "Music workshops and music therapy at Rowan continue to thrive. The workshops are a great opportunity for students to connect with each other, build their communication and interaction skills and express themselves through music and words. Recently we've written an original song, to celebrate Rowan's 40th anniversary this year. We're now working towards a showcase performance". The photo shows Bethany with one of her music groups.

As well as music workshops, Rowan also provides music therapy in a 1:1 setting. Tutor Bethany continues: "Music therapy provides a vital space for individual students, who have particular emotional & social needs and/or would struggle to participate in a group, to build their confidence, express themselves (with necessarily needing words) and feel a sense of achievement".

For more information about how you can support Rowan please visit our website at rowanhumberstone.org.uk or call us on 01223 566027.

ST ANDREW'S CHURCH

MINISTER'S LETTER

By Philip Lockley

When was the last time you visited St Andrew's Churchyard?

Hundreds of us can probably say "very recently" – in the last week or month – because the straight path that links Church Street and Pye's Rec and Elizabeth Way is a very popular through-route for pedestrians and cyclists. The churchyard is also familiar to local dog-walkers and, of course, families visiting the graves of loved ones – as generations of Chesterton residents have had their remains buried here.

I wonder if you've noticed changes in your local churchyard recently? You may have observed areas of grass being left to grow long, and parts marked off as meadow. Walking deeper into the churchyard during summer, you'll have discovered a vibrant array of wildflowers that weren't there a few years ago. Other areas are now cleared of dominant ivy and bindweed to allow a wider diversity of plants and habitats to flourish.

St Andrew's Church are custodians of this historic and sacred green space at the heart of our community. The churchyard has been formally 'closed' to full burials for some years, meaning the church partners with the City Council to mow and maintain the space. As a congregation committed to caring for the Creation, our dedicated volunteer Churchyard Team also works with Cambridgeshire Churchyard Conversation, run in conjunction with the local Wildlife Trust to manage the 3+ acres around the church to encourage biodiversity.

Recently, a representative of the Wildlife Trust came to inspect the churchyard for a Conservation Award scheme. During the visit, it was fascinating to learn about the hidden roles various plants are playing in feeding birds, butterflies, insects and other creatures. It was all a wonderful endorsement of the hard work and care of our volunteers who come from both the church congregation and the wider community.

As I have reflected on all this flora and fauna growing in our churchyard, I'm reminded of how often Jesus told stories about seeds, plants, trees and animals – as he shared who God is and what God does. Jesus challenged the limited view of the world that sees nature serving only human priorities. The Bible reveals again and again that God is in the business of providing abundance, delighting in diversity, and bringing new life from the unlikeliest of places. That means I see the recent history of St Andrew's churchyard as a metaphor for so much I believe in & so much we are seeking to share as a church.

If you haven't been recently, do come and enjoy St Andrew's Churchyard. Take a moment to give thanks for all that is growing there—and in so many other green spaces in our neighbourhood.

If you think you might be interested in joining our regular churchyard work teams – do contact the St Andrew's office: admin@standrews-chesterton.org
